<sup>1</sup> Indictable or criminal offence means any offence under the Criminal Code or any offence designated as an indictable or criminal offence in any other federal law.

<sup>2</sup> A pardon within the meaning of the Criminal Records Act, RSC 1985, c. C-47, is an act of clemency toward a person convicted under a federal law. It therefore applies only to an offence under the Criminal Code or another federal penal law.

<sup>3</sup> Penal offence means any offence, other than a criminal offence, created by and punishable under provincial or federal laws or regulations (e.g. Highway Safety Code).
